

Coach Michael Green

Michael Green is the head coach of the Loudoun Soccer '96 Red and '95 Red teams. He is also the Director of the Loudoun Soccer Striker Academy and was the Director of the Footskills Academy through spring 2009.

A native of Columbia, MD, Michael played collegiate soccer at the University of Virginia where he was a three-year starter and played for the Cavaliers in their 1997 NCAA Championship game vs. UCLA. Green began his professional soccer career in 1999, signing with Major League Soccer's Kansas City Wizards. He spent three years with the Wizards, including the 2000 season when the Wizards won the MLS Cup. Michael was a member of the Pro-40 Select team during this period and in 1999, trained with Bayer Leverkusen of the German Bundesliga. He then played professionally in the A league for the Pittsburgh Riverhounds and Charleston Battery.

Mike holds the NSCAA National Diploma, Advanced National Diploma, National Youth Diploma and the Premier Diploma.